Short introduction of key areas of your activity:

Sanochemia develops and produces active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs) in its Active Ingredient Synthesis segment. Its activities range from the development of a laboratory process to upscaling to production on an industrial scale, and it combines all this under one roof. It has established modern in-house development and release analytics, and regulatory support for the preparation of approval documents to facilitate this. Many years of experience and the best technical equipment enable Sanochemia to offer other pharmaceutical companies services in the development of highly complex active pharmaceutical ingredients.
